

The graph below shows the number of tourists visiting a particular Caribbean island between 2010 and 2017.

Summarise the information by selecting and reporting the main features, and make comparisons where relevant.

Write at least 150 words.

The line graph compares how many tourists visited a particular Caribbean Island from 2010 to 2017.

Overall, although the figure for visitors staying on the island was higher initially, it was overtaken by those staying on cruise ships later on. The former increased overall moderately, while the latter rose significantly. The total number of tourists grew dramatically, as well.

The figure for visitors on cruise ships stood at 0.25 million (0.25m) ~~of visitors~~ in 2010, fluctuating until ~~2013~~2012. It then increased steadily ~~throughout~~ during the rest of the period, as it reached 2m in 2017.

Regarding visitors staying on the island, ~~it~~they accounted for 0.75m initially, remaining stable until 2011, before increasing until 2013, when the figure hit 1.5m. It levelled off between 2013 and 2015, after which it fluctuated until 2017.

The total number of visitors ~~ranked~~stood at 1m at first, increasing dramatically despite ~~levelling off~~ remaining stable between 2015 and 2016, and eventually reached 3.5m.

Visitors staying on the island accounted for 0.75 million (0.75m) initially, remaining stable until 2011, before increasing until 2013, when the figure hit 1.5m. It levelled off between 2013 and 2015, after which it fluctuated until 2017.

The figure for visitors on cruise ships stood at 0.25m in 2010, fluctuating until 2012. It then increased steadily during the rest of the period, as it overtook those on the island and reached 2m in 2017.