In the future, nobody will buy printed newspapers or books because they will be able to read everything they want online without paying.
To what extent do you agree or disagree with this statement?

1. It is said that individuals in the future will have access to ~~printed materials~~ whatever they want to read online free of charge, and none of them will purchase physical books or newspapers. I strongly agree with this view, mainly due to changes in publishers' financial strategies.

2. It is said that in the future, people ~~wont~~ will not pay for physical newspapers or books because any content they want will be available to read online for free. ~~I strongly believe that free online content will have a significant impact on the way publishers generate revenue~~I strongly agree, mainly because of financial factors.

---

3. It is said that, in the coming years, no one will purchase printed ~~publications and physical~~ books or newspapers because they will be ~~capable of reading~~ able to read everything they want online without paying. ~~–~~I strongly ~~believe that in the upcoming years, people tend to read anything on devices because of the effect on technologies~~ agree, mainly because of financial factors.

Commented [ET1]: You have changed the task and eliminated ONLINE and EVERTHING THEY WANT TO READ.

Commented [ET2]: 1.Correct: won't
2.Informal

Commented [ET3]: You must first answer the question of how much you agree or disagree with the prediction in the first sentence. Then you should "hint" toward your first reason, not present it in so many words.

Commented [ET4]: The task says books and newspapers, not any other type of publication.

Commented [ET5]: Either this or printed: they are the same.

Commented [ET6]: Being able to do something means it is possible for someone to do it. Being capable of doing something is having the potential to do it because of personal features, skills or powers.

Commented [ET7]: 1.See comment 3
2.The task is not about reading on devices, which could be online or offline.

Commented [ET8]: Your first idea is about income and finances, not effects ON technologies. There was some explanation of the effect OF technologies in the DEVELOPMENT.

4. It is said that people ~~won't~~ will not buy printed newspapers or books in the future because they will have access to read ~~online~~ everything online without paying. I strongly believe that ~~the world will become more digital in many areas, including reading and publish~~ ~~everything~~this will happen, mainly for financial reasons.

Commented [ET9]: Informal

Commented [ET10]: 1.You must first answer the question of how much you agree or disagree with the prediction in the first sentence, and then hint towards your first reason. The talk about the world becoming digital is in the development of the first reason, not the main idea.

5. It is said that in the future, nobody will buy printed newspapers or books because of being able to read everything they want online without paying.

I strongly agree with this ~~because making money from advertising is much more easier than~~ ~~sales~~mainly for financial reasons.

Commented [ET11]: This must follow the previous sentence in the same paragraph.

Commented [ET12]: You were supposed to HINT towards your first main idea, not present and explain it here in the introduction.

6. It is said that people will no longer purchase printed newspapers and books in the future, as they will be able to read ~~all the information~~ everything they need online for free. I strongly agree, mainly for financial reasons.

Commented [ET13]: Not everything you read is information. A book of fiction is not information.

7. It is said that people will be able to read everything online for free in the future, and nobody will pay for printed newspapers or books. I strongly agree with this statement, mainly due to changes in the financial decisions of publishers.

8. It is argued that people will not buy printed books or newspapers in future, ~~due to the fact~~ as that they will be able to read whatever they want online ~~and~~ for free. I firmly agree with this opinion, mainly because of the financial advantages it brings to publishers.

---

9. It is said that~~, ,~~ in the future nobody will buy printed newspapers or books~~,~~ since ~~they~~ everything they want to read will be accessible for free online. I firmly agree with that ~~theory~~prediction, ~~as marketing will move online in the future~~mainly for financial reasons.

Commented [ET14]: What follows the inker is not a fact. It is a prediction that could be true or not.

Commented [ET15]: No space before a comma or period. One space after.

Commented [ET16]: This part of the task is about everything people want to read, not just books or newspapers.

Commented [ET17]: Your first idea is not about this.

10. It is said that in the future, people will no longer spend money on printed books and newspapers because they ~~can~~ will be able to read whatever they want online for free. I strongly agree with this prediction, mainly because ~~the shift towards digital publishing could be more financially beneficial for publishers~~of financial factors.

Commented [ET18]: See comment 12

11. It is said that in the future, individuals will have free online access to all reading materials so nobody will purchase newspapers or books which are printed on paper. I strongly agree with this statement, mainly for financial reasons.

Commented [ET19]: Without this, the topic changes completely.

Commented [ET20]: You can reduce this.

12. It is predicted that printed newspapers or books will no longer be bought in the future, due to the ability to read everything online ~~freely~~for free. I strongly ~~believe that this expectation is completely true~~ agree with this prediction mainly because of the differing ways of making money in the future.

Commented [ET21]: This means without restriction (آزادانه).

Commented [ET22]: Awkward phrasing

Commented [ET23]: You will say this again in the next sentence at the beginning of the first body paragraph. I would summarise this using the method I explained in the video for opinion essays.
