Convenience: modern lifestyle: more & more to do and at higher speed > future: not enough time to drive through traffic to go shopping for books/newspapers > read online to easily find and access a wide range of topics anytime anywhere, e.g. during commute on bus/midnight after work, via devices e.g. phone

1. ~~[~~Another reason is that~~]~~ online reading ~~is~~would be far more convenient. In modern life, people have more and more to do ~~and~~ at a higher speed. In the future, they will not have enough time to drive through traffic to go shopping for books and newspapers. Therefore, they will read online, where they ~~can~~ will be able to easily find and access a wide range of topics anytime and anywhere, for example during the commute on the bus or at midnight after work, via devices such as their phones.

---

2. In addition, people will be concerned about their convenience. ~~t~~The high-speed modern lifestyle ~~will increase~~ is increasing the number of tasks which individuals have to do in their daily lives. As a result, in the future it will be hard for them to find enough time to spend on activities like driving through traffic to purchase books or newspapers in person. Reading online will provide a much more convenient way for them to find and access a wide range of content anytime and anywhere using devices like phones. For example, ~~people can~~ they will be able to read whatever they want while commuting by bus.

Commented [ET1]: The linker is not optional here. The reasons why I put the linker for the first reason in square brackets was to indicate that you may keep it or drop it.

Commented [ET2]: This is a reason why people in the future will do something, so you should present it in the future tense, not as a fact or a present situation.

Commented [ET3]: You must begin by presenting the main idea.

Commented [ET4]: According to your notes, this part is about the present.

Commented [ET5]: You correctly noticed that you don't need a linker here. Kudos!

Commented [ET6]: What happened to the other example in your notes?

3. ~~In addition, c~~Convenience will be another factor encouraging readers to use online materials. Having a job that involves numerous tasks and requires working at a fast pace is becoming common in modern life, which means that in the future individuals ~~may~~ would certainly not have enough time to drive through heavy traffic and purchase printed materials in person. ~~Thus, o~~Online publications will enable ~~readers~~ them to access a wide range of reading materials anytime and anywhere. For instance, using a device such as a smartphone, readers will be able to read while commuting by bus or late at night.

---

4. Secondly, reading online ~~is~~ would be more convenient for modern and fast-paced lifestyles. Nowadays the number of tasks people have to do and the speed of doing them ~~by people~~ ~~is~~ are exponentially increasing. In the future, ~~these people~~ readers ~~wouldn't~~ would not have enough time to bear congested ~~traffic jams~~ roads to buy books or newspapers. As a result ~~of which~~, they would rather ~~to~~ read online, as this method ~~provides~~ would provide access to a wider range of topics anywhere, anytime~~. Some examples are~~, for example during commuting on bus and ~~in the~~ at midnight after work, ~~which can be done~~ with various devices like cell phones.

Commented [ET7]: You have used ANOTHER, which does the same job.

Commented [ET8]: This is a weak modal, which is not appropriate when you are drawing a strong conclusion.

Commented [ET9]: This sentence is not the result of the previous one. It introduces an alternative to the situation described there. If you want to use this linker, you need to present the idea the way number 1 did.

Commented [ET10]: See comment 2

Commented [ET11]: This is not a passive structure, so you cannot add the "doer" using BY.

Commented [ET12]: You are not talking about the same people.

Commented [ET13]: Traffic jam = congested road

Commented [ET14]: This is used to start a new clause in the middle of a sentence, not a new sentence.

5. In addition, reading online would be more convenient. ~~i~~In modern lifestyle people are ~~very~~ increasingly busy with their daily activities and are always in a harry. Therefore, in the future, they ~~may~~ would have less time to drive in heavy traffic to go shopping for books or newspapers. As a result, reading online will become more convenient, and readers will be able to find and access a wide range of content with just a few taps on their digital devices, regardless of time or location. For instance, ~~people can~~ they will be able to access their desired topics on their smartphones while commuting by bus or late at night after work.

Commented [ET15]: See comment 3

Commented [ET16]: As your notes show (more and more), you are introducing a trend.

Commented [ET17]: See comment 8

---

6. In addition, ~~people~~ readers ~~are~~ will be looking for more convenience. As daily tasks increase and need to be completed quickly, ~~people~~ they will be unwilling to spend their time in traffic in order to purchase printed books or newspapers. Therefore, ~~readers~~ they will turn to reading online so that they can conveniently access a wide range of topics anytime and anywhere, such as while commuting by bus or even at midnight, using electronic devices like gadgets.

Commented [ET18]: See comment 2

7. ~~It is said that~~ ~~in the future,~~ ~~lifestyle will be changed more and more~~ Furthermore, convenience will become important. In modern lifestyles people have more and more tasks to do ~~and~~at a higher speed. ~~so~~ Therefore, future readers will not have time to drive through traffic to go shopping for books and newspaper, leading them to read online easily and access a wide range of topics anytime and anywhere, for example during their commute by bus or after work, using digital devices.

~~they will also have the opportunity to read boos and newspapers during their commute by bus. Digital devices enable readers to read publication after work.~~

---

8. In addition, the convenience of reading materials online ~~may~~ would convince people to change their reading habits ~~in the future~~. In modern lifestyle, people are becoming increasingly busy and have more and more tasks to do at a faster pace. This means that in the future, they ~~may~~ would not have enough time to drive through traffic to buy books or newspapers. Therefore, they will prefer to read online, as this ~~allows~~ would allow them to easily find and access a wide range of topics anytime and anywhere. ~~For example, they can read online~~, for example on their smartphones while commuting by bus or late at midnight after work.

Commented [ET19]: This is for the introduction. Here, you need a linker to ADD a new reason.

Commented [ET20]: See comment 3 and 4

Commented [ET21]: 1.Why is this in a new paragraph?
2.Begin a new sentence with a capital letter.

Commented [ET22]: Pay attention to spelling and check for typing mistakes.

Commented [ET23]: This belongs in the previous part with the other example.

Commented [ET24]: The two new sentences in this new paragraph are unnecessary and repetitive. The information here belongs in the last sentence of the previous paragraph.

Commented [ET25]: See comment 8

Commented [ET26]: WILL is enough here. you say IN THE FUTURE again in the third sentence.

Commented [ET27]: Repetitive

9. In addition, ~~P~~people ~~may~~ would prefer reading online ~~in the future~~ because it ~~is~~ will be convenient. In modern life, they have an increasing number of responsibilities at an increasingly fast pace. As a result, in the future, ~~people may~~ they would not have enough time to drive through traffic to go shopping for books and newspapers. Instead, they ~~can~~ will read online, which ~~allows~~ would allow them to easily find and access a wide range of topics anytime and anywhere, for example~~,~~ while commuting by bus or late at night after work, using devices such as mobile phones.

Commented [ET28]: You are adding a new reason and need to use a linker.

Commented [ET29]: See comment 8

Commented [ET30]: See comment 26

Commented [ET31]: See comment 2